Sponsorship Opportunities
The Scleroderma Research Foundation (SRF) is America’s first and leading nonprofit investor in scleroderma research. Founded in 1987, SRF funds and facilitates the most promising, highest quality research aimed at improved treatment options and, ultimately, a cure for scleroderma. Scleroderma is a chronic, complex, and often life-threatening disease. It is most visibly characterized by fibrosis or hardening of the skin but can damage blood vessels, joints, muscles, lungs, kidneys and other organ systems with life-threatening consequences.

Cool Comedy Hot Cuisine is a 30+ year tradition in Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York and Las Vegas. As SRF's signature fundraising and awareness building event, Cool Comedy Hot Cuisine is hosted by world famous actor/comedian Bob Saget with exceptional cuisine prepared by Bravo Top Chef Masters Susan Feniger and Mary Sue Milliken. Past guests at Cool Comedy Hot Cuisine New York have included Michael Che, Andy Cohen, John Oliver, Jeff Ross, and special musical guest, Jackson Browne. To date, this fabulous event has raised more than $20 million to support scleroderma research and introduced millions of people to the disease and the incredible work of the Scleroderma Research Foundation. All funds raised at Cool Comedy Hot Cuisine support research to improve treatments for scleroderma patients.
